Galerie 729 im Lehel will be inaugurated with this exhibition in cooperation with Galerie Ruf, with the intent to present alternatively contemporary art and Modern Classics, following the motto:

*The good and just man lives 729 times more pleasantly than the bad and unjust...
once more for each day and each night in one year.*

(after Plato, The Republic, Book IX)

About 25 years ago, Galerie Ruf co-organized three exhibitions in the Max-Joseph Hall of the Munich Residence, each including about 200 original works of Salvador Dalí (1982), Henry Moore (1983) and Marino Marini (1984).

Close to the twentieth anniversary of Salvador Dalí's death, Galerie 729 im Lehel and Galerie Ruf recall these events, presenting to the Munich audience graphics and small sculptures of these important artists, fascinating works – with a safe and stable valuation.
